IRIS Core Values

IRIS Core Values

1. We understand that we can find God, and can experience intimacy, communication and companionship with Him in His Presence, if we share His love for righteousness.

IRIS Core Values

2. We are totally dependent on Him for everything, and we need and expect miracles of all kinds to sustain us and confirm the Gospel in our ministry.

IRIS Core Values

3. We look for revival among the broken, humble and lowly, and start at the bottom with ministry to the poor. God chooses the weak and despised things of the world to shame the proud, demonstrating His own strength and wisdom. Our direction is lower still...

IRIS Core Values

4. We understand the value of suffering in the Christian life. Learning to love requires willingness to suffer for the sake of righteousness. Discipline and testing make saints out of us, and produce in us the holiness without which we will not see His face and share His glory. With Paul we rejoice in our weaknesses, for when we are weak we are strong. Under great pressure we learn to rely on God, who raises the dead (2 Cor. 1:9).

IRIS Core Values

5. The joy of the Lord is not optional, and it far outweighs our suffering! In Jesus it becomes our motivation, reward and spiritual weapon. In His Presence is fullness of joy, and with Paul we testify that in all our troubles our joy knows no bounds (2 Cor. 7:4). It is our strength and energy, without which we die.

Mountain People Worship

Iris Greeneville partners with Holston Home for Children, witnessing firsthand the transformative power of the Gospel in the lives of the abandoned and unwanted.

God is radically touching these communities, bringing powerful transformation—in the youth, jails, rehab centers, trailer parks, and churches.

A wide-angle photograph of a large, diverse crowd of people gathered in a field. Many individuals have their hands raised in the air, suggesting a sense of community or celebration. In the foreground, a band is performing on stage, with a drummer visible and a guitar player to the right. The background features a dense line of trees under a clear sky.
